FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Yorktown Systems Group, Inc. Awarded Contract to Provide Joint Capabilities Integration Development Systems (JCIDS) Support to Define Live Training Instrumentation Systems Requirements

Yorktown Systems Group, Inc., a leading Service Disabled Veteran Owned Small Business (SDVOSB), was awarded a contract on September 30th, 2009 by the Army Training Support Center (ATSC) and TRADOC Capability Manager-Live (TCM-L) to develop and coordinate the necessary documentation to assist TCM-L in defining and articulating Live Training Instrumentation Systems Requirements. This effort requires Yorktown Systems Group, Inc. to clearly define system requirements, provide thorough analysis, and identify the critical documentation that is required to initiate the formal development processes for Instrumentation Systems. These Instrumentation Systems will support the replication of capabilities inherent in the Contemporary Operating Environment; enabling realism and support stability from the training area to real world operations.

“This effort requires us to conduct a comprehensive analysis which fully integrates Instrumentation Systems for live training requirements”, said Bryan Dyer, President and CEO of Yorktown Systems Group, Inc. “Our analysts will assist TCM-L in fielding cost effective training systems that are interoperable with the DoD T2 Strategy and the DoD Architectural Framework. We are very excited to begin this work and assist TCM-L in defining future live training requirements. We know that as the Army is redesigning its training doctrine, live training Instrumentation Systems are extremely critical in providing quality feedback to Leaders and Soldiers. Our team of Army veterans with Combat Training Center experience is fully qualified to execute this significant task.”

Yorktown Systems Group, Inc. is a focused professional services company that intuitively understands the missions of their Government customers. As a SDVOSB, this company strives to match employment opportunities with Veterans with the belief that Veterans, who volunteered to serve the Nation, are the cornerstone of a quality workforce that can exceed the requirements of our Customers. Yorktown Systems Group, Inc.’s corporate reputation is paramount in their long-term vision. The company’s name was conceived from the last major battle of the Revolutionary War, the Battle of Yorktown, in which the nation’s freedom was ensured and allowed Soldiers to go home to become our country’s first veterans.
